

Notice of Package Design Change

September 2024

We are pleased to announce that we will be changing the package design of the following products. The design will be updated to make the product brand grouping easier to understand.

There will be no change in price, JAN code, and quality specifications compared to the previous product.

We will begin shipping the new package as soon as the current product stock runs out, so please understand that there will be a period of time when the old and new packages will be mixed together.
